Community action changes people’s lives, embodies the spirit of hope, improves communities and makes America a better place to live. Community Action Agencies care about the entire community, and are dedicated to helping people help themselves and each other.

Community Action Promise

The Office of Economic Opportunity would like to congratulate the North Carolina Community Action Association (NCCAA) on its 2023 Annual Conference.

The work that you do is the leading driver in supporting our statewide priorities of easy access to mental health services, ensuring that North Carolina’s children grow up safe, healthy and thriving in nurturing and resilient families and communities and reinforcing a strong, healthy, and inclusive work force.

NCDHHS/OEO has an ongoing commitment to our strong partnership with the NCCAA and all community action agencies across the state as they work to “address the root effects of poverty and help move families and individuals to self-sufficiency.”

Have a dynamic and successful conference.

The North Carolina Office of Economic Opportunity.

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY / AFFIRMATIVE ACTION EMPLOYER

WELCOME

BENTON CONVENTION CENTER | WINSTON SALEM, NC

Dear Conference Attendees:

Over the last three years, Community Action organizations like yours provided a comprehensive, energetic and incomparable approach to pandemic challenges within your local communities. We recognize your deep commitment to creating opportunities for others. Thank you!

As we move away from the pandemic, we greet new obstacles, new opportunities, and we continue to wrestle with the tremendous responsibility of this work.

During each NCCAA Annual Conference, we seek to recognize the determination that community action work requires and to support you and your agency with an opportunity to learn, recharge and help transform the work that we all do. What does it mean for our agencies to share a statewide effort to shape a culture of care for the most vulnerable, and also sustain ourselves?

Our connection is everything. We share a promise, values and mission that includes equity, respect, commitment, excellence, hope, caring, innovation and opportunity. Together, we ignite opportunity, and each exchange between us has the potential to build our bonds, strengthen our hearts and support resilient communities. This week we'll be focused on the nuts and bolts of Section 8, Energy Efficiency, Fighting Food Insecurity and the partnerships that contribute to our depth, but as we do that we will honor you and give focus to many other topics that contribute to our collective well-being.

We are excited for the opportunity to recharge and look forward to capturing the sparks that ignite our network!

Sincere Regards,

Sharon C. Goodson, CCAP
Executive Director

Patsy D. Davis
NCCAA Board President

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Innovative Strategies to Address, Maintain, and Enhance Your Head Start Work Force SALEM 1A Patricia Beier, Chief Executive Officer, WAGES, Inc. Attracting and maintaining your workforce is critical to organizational success and sustainability. Workforce quality and retention have always been challenging but the pandemic has heightened this issue. This session will explore concepts relating to the complexities of the Head Start workforce and explore proven strategies for you to consider when seeking to maintain your current staff, recruit, retain and onboard high quality staff while ensuring staff have the essential tools to be successful in their respective roles. RECHARGE Thyself – Part I SALEM 1B Natasha Holley, Chief Executive Officer, Integrated Family Services, PLLC Is the weight of the world on your shoulders with responsibility at home, work, and in the community? Do you often feel exhausted, overwhelmed, and stretched thin? Do you feel guilty and struggle with taking time for yourself? If the answer is yes, participate in this training to understand the importance of self-care and recharging to be your best self. This discussion will provide an opportunity for you to reflect on your stress and burnout level and the impact it has on yourself, and others connected to you. FastLife: IT Security for Your Nonprofit in a Fast Paced World SALEM 1C Torrence Reed, Founder & CEO, Cybershield Security Most startups, small businesses and non-profits think they are too small to get hacked. They are not. They eventually WILL get hacked. The only questions are when, by whom and what amount of financial ruin will they suffer. We understand how important becoming secure is to staying secure so we're working with NCCAA to make it a little easier for you to get started with cybersecurity. Join us for an interactive walk-through on securing and protecting your business.

CONCURRENT SESSIONS continued

■ Recent Legal Developments and Other Issues Affecting NC Community Action Agencies

SALEM 3AB

Rocky Cabagnet, Attorney, Hull & Chandler, P.A.

Most North Carolina Community Action Agencies are private not-for-profit organizations with 501(c)(3) public charity tax exempt status. As such, all NC CAAs must comply with NCGS 55A and IRC 501(c)(3). Additionally, NC CAAs are recipients of millions of dollars in local, state and federal funding (CSBG for all and Head Start for most), are usually quite larger than average (100 plus FTE) employers conducting operations throughout multiple facilities. As such, all NC CAAs are dealing with compliance with federal and state grants (and the laws that attach to funding). As large employers, most CAAs had to deal with COVID-19 from various angles (enforcing vaccine mandates if HS/EHS grantee, handling employee requests for exemptions from COVID vaccine mandates, obtaining and complying with the PPP loan and ensuring that monies received from CARES and ARP were used and tracked for accountability). Many NC CAAs are assertive fundraisers, which means compliance with NC's Charitable Solicitation regulations. As mostly board of director driven nonprofits, NC CAAs should also know of the new updates in NCGS 55A related to remote meetings and decision making for directors. While we can't cover every issue and development, this presentation will go over the most important ones that NC CAAs need to know now and going into the future.

■ The Metrics of Moisture I (7 CEU credits for completing I & II)

SALEM 3C

Doug Loflin, Project Inspector & Trainer, Piedmont Triad Regional Council

Kevin Scott, Trainer, Piedmont Triad Regional Council

Moisture is the primary factor in building durability, and it moves through building enclosures in many different ways. Types of moisture movement, and factors such as relative humidity and dewpoint are often overlooked and undiagnosed when trying to correct moisture issues. This class will cover mechanisms of moisture movement in detail, cite examples of common problems encountered during energy audits and inspections, and discuss possible solutions.

■ Collaborative Community Health Models

SALEM 1A

Cheryl Emanuel, Consultant, Global 330 Health Equity Consulting Group, LLC,

This workshop will provide an overview of effective community health models designed to increase community engagement, inclusion, diversity and cultural growth within the public healthcare industry. We will identify and describe the core guiding principles of community engagement to consider when building your own community health collaborations.

■ Finances for Non-Financial People

SALEM 1B

Dr. Teresa Hardee, President & CEO, I50 Consulting Services

This course will teach you how to communicate your agency's financial position to non-financial individuals. It will allow you to demonstrate your basic understanding of financial management to all of your stakeholders in a way that enables everyone to understand the financial health of the agency even when they are not a numbers person. We will discuss how to read key elements of financial statements and management reports, how to prepare and present your budget analyses, and how to create and display key financial indicators to help the reader understand the financial and operation condition of the agency.

■ Messaging: How to talk to Republicans and Democrats

SALEM 1C

David Bradley, Founder & CEO, National Community Action Foundation

A key component of NCAF's successful legislative strategy for Community Action is a bipartisan approach. Join David for this briefing on effective communications with Republicans and Democrats.

FEATURED SPEAKERS

DAVID BRADLEY

*Co-Founder & CEO
National Community Action Foundation*

David Bradley, Co-Founder and CEO, National Community Action Foundation, gives a voice to the voiceless. For nearly three decades, he has been the preeminent advocate in Washington, D.C. working closely with the Congressional leadership and with numerous Administrations, to ensure federal policies related to major social service programs make a difference in the lives of low-income Americans. Mr. Bradley is the principle author of the Community Services Block Grant, which provides the core funding to the nation's CAA network and has been widely praised by leaders of both political parties. His nearly unrivaled access to powerbrokers in Congressional leadership gives him an insider's perspective of the political climate in Washington that is gleaned directly from political and party leaders.

DENISE HARLOW, CCAP, NCRT

*Chief Executive Officer
National Community Action Partnership*

Denise Harlow, CCAP, is the Chief Executive Officer of the National Community Action Partnership, a national hub that links the nation's 1,000+ Community Action Agencies to each other and to federal, state, and local leaders looking to connect Americans to greater opportunity.

She was appointed the Partnership's CEO in 2014 after serving as Senior Director of Training and Technical Assistance and Interim Chief Operating Officer. Working with Community Action Network partners, Denise was instrumental in the design and deployment of network-wide Organizational Standards and was a leader in the recent update to the Community Action performance management framework.

COMMUNITY ACTION CODE OF ETHICS

We, as Community Action Professionals, dedicate ourselves to eliminating poverty in the midst of plenty in this nation by opening to everyone the opportunity for education and training; the opportunity for work; and the opportunity to live in decency and dignity; and with respect for cultural diversity, commit ourselves to:

- ☞ Recognize that the chief function of the Community Action movement at all times is to serve the best interests of the poor, thereby serving the best interests of all people.
- ☞ Accept as a personal duty the responsibility to keep up to date on emerging issues and to conduct ourselves with professional competence, fairness, impartiality, efficiency, and effectiveness.
- ☞ Respect the structure and responsibilities of the board of directors, provide them with facts and advice as a basis for their making policy decisions, and uphold and implement policies adopted by the board of directors.
- ☞ Keep the community informed about issues affecting the poor; facilitate communication by the poor with locally elected public officials and the private sector.
- ☞ Conduct our organizational and operational duties with positive leadership exemplified by open communication, creativity, dedication, and compassion.
- ☞ Exercise whatever discretionary authority we have under the law to promote the interests of the poor.
- ☞ Lead the Community Action movement with respect, concern, courtesy, and responsiveness, recognizing that service to the poor is beyond service to oneself.
- ☞ Demonstrate the highest standards of personal integrity, truthfulness, honesty, and fortitude in all our Community Action activities in order to inspire confidence and trust in the Community Action movement.
- ☞ Serve in such a way that we do not realize undue personal gain from the performance of our professional duties.
- ☞ Avoid any interest or activity that is in conflict with the conduct of official duties.
- ☞ Respect and protect privileged information to which we have access in the course of official duties.
- ☞ Strive for professional excellence and encourage the professional development of our associates, including those seeking to become certified Community Action professionals.

Hull & Chandler Attorneys at Law hullandchandler.com

If you are a 501c3 public charity (especially a Head Start/Early Head Start Grantee or a Community Action Agency), you really should consider utilizing fractional general counsel services to help manage your organization's legal needs! A fractional general counsel is a part time licensed attorney (treated as an independent contractor) who provides ongoing legal services to your nonprofit at a flat-rate or fixed price structure. The benefits of using a fractional general counsel from Hull & Chandler is that your attorney has extensive experience with both representing as counsel and managing at senior level tax exempt public charities (especially Head Start/Early Head Start and Community Action Agencies).
